

application claims priority to and which was incorporated by reference in its entirety. Applicant submits that support for this Amendment can be found in the parent application, and therefore, the inclusion of the Greek letters and symbols in the substitute Specification does not constitute the addition of new matter.

The Drawings for this case were also inadvertently left out of the initial filing of the present Application on November 20, 2001. Again, these drawings were included as part of the parent application USSN 09/518,346, and therefore, submission of these Drawings at this time does not constitute the addition of new matter.

Applicant respectfully requests reexamination and reconsideration of the case as amended.
